- 122 g fresh cream (35% fat)
- 25 g fresh yuzu pulp
- 3 g Cointreau® 60%
- 3 g grated fresh ginger
- 3 g lime zest
- 31 g egg yolks
- 31 g sugar
- 1 ½ gelatin leaf, silver

Make a custard:

- Heat the fresh cream, yuzu pulp, grated fresh ginger and lime zest.
- At the same time, whisk the egg yolks with the sugar until the mixture forms a white ribbon.
- Sprinkle the gelatin on the cold water.
- When the first preparation boils, pour on the ribbon, while mixing.
- Return the mixture to the saucepan and cook until mixture thickens and covers the spatula (85°C).

Strain in a bowl, incorporate the dry gelatine and Cointreau®. Mix and fill silicone moulds in the shape of 2 cm diameter ball. Set aside in the freezer.

2. ECUADOR DARK CHOCOLATE MOUSSE

- Drizzle over egg yolks and whole eggs, already whisked.
- Beat on medium speed until the mixture whitens.

Whip fresh cream until you have a smooth texture, then set aside in the fridge.

Sprinkle the gelatin on the cold water. Melt the chocolate couverture to 45°C.

Make the mousse:

- Add the Cointreau® and mix well.
- Incorporate the remaining whipped cream and mix.
- Mix the melted gelatin with the pastry bomb dough.
- Incorporate this pastry bomb dough to the whipped cream-chocolate mixture.
